

MOBS STILL PARADE STREETS IN CAPITAL; SHOUT FOR MADERO

DIAZ ANNOUNCES HE WILL RESIGN HAND IN HIS RESIGNATION TODAY TO THE CONGRESS.

ADVANCE IS ORDERED

Madero Orders Insurgents to Advance and Capture Stronghold of Federal Forces Immediately.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Mexico City, Mexico, May 25.—From the closest assistants of Diaz it was declared he would positively resign as President of Mexico today.

The serious condition of his health and the fact of his resignation have caused the aged executive to retire immediately.

The President left with a high fever and after a sleepless night found scattered crowds about the palace and buildings clamoring for his resignation.

Supporters of Madero hold Diaz personally responsible for the mob demonstration and numerous killings that night by not retiring as he promised.

Both his resignation and that of Vice President Corral will be sent to congress and accepted.

Members of the diplomatic corps called at the palace in farewell visits to Diaz following an official announcement that he would retire this afternoon.

Diaz will leave Mexico at once, Madero decided.

Juarez, Mexico, May 25.—Francisco Madero has taken his first blow at American troops. It was stated today that a man representing Wall Street interests called on him and was informed that Madero would only represent the people of Mexico, who are down-trodden by monopoly already.

Resume Fighting. Juarez, May 25.—The cessation of hostilities in the state of Coahuila was ordered today. Madero instructed the insurgent forces of that state to advance on and take Saltillo from the federalists and establish a provisional government there. The action was taken as a result of the refusal of the Coahuila legislature to install a provisional governor, which Madero asserted had been previously agreed to.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Mexico City, May 25.—After the intense excitement of last night the city is in a comparative state of quiet this morning.

The official statement of the number of casualties resulting from the rioting places the dead at seven; the wounded at thirty-six. Several of the wounded are expected to die.

A large force of police is on duty today, but there are no signs of a renewal of the disorders.

Foreign Minister De La Barra has issued an official statement this morning that President Diaz and Vice President Corral would resign this afternoon and the provisional government thereupon would assume authority.

Long vistas of broken windows testified today to the work of the mob last night. Several of the places were owned by Americans.

Reports today from outlying quarters show that five people were killed in Guadalupe Tuesday night.

The police fired into a crowd in front of the department of foreign relations today. One man was killed. The mob was still parading the streets yelling, "Viva Madero."

BOAT STRUCK REEF; MANY ARE DROWNED

Only Forty of Hundred Passengers on South American Vessel Saved When Ship Was Wrecked.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) New York, May 25.—Panama dispatches today say the steamer Tabago of the National Steamship line, struck a rock off Santa Marta on Tuesday and immediately sank. The vessel is reported to have had on board one hundred passengers of which forty were saved.

HOUSE WAS BURNED WHILE AT FUNERAL

Racine Family, Returning From Funeral in Milwaukee Last Night, Found Home Had Been Outfired By Flames.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Racine, Wis., May 25.—Coming back to the city last night after attending a funeral in Milwaukee, Louis Friedman and family found that fire had gutted their residence.

AVIATOR IN FIGHT WITH GIANT EAGLE

M. Gilbert in Race From Paris To Madrid, Encounters Eagle Which Attacks Him.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) San Sebastian, Spain, May 25.—M. Gilbert, the aviator, on the last leg of the Paris to Madrid race today, while in flight was attacked by a giant eagle which, after a desperate and dangerous fight he shot with his revolver. Gilbert alighted sixty miles from the city, but later continued the flight. Aviators Gilbert, Vedrine and Garros, are the three left in the race.

ADJOURNMENT BEFORE MIDDLE OF JUNE IS NOT LOOKED FOR NOW

Committee on Expedition of Business Planning How Best to Dispose of Matters on Hand.

Madison Wis., May 25.—In advance of any statement of the condition of pending legislation, or information which contradicts any at hand, it appears that it will be impossible for any measure to be taken which will secure adjournment before the middle of June. The newly appointed committee on expedition of business, in making a study of the condition of the state of business in each house, and upon this will base its judgment of how best to bring the session to a close as soon as possible. The recommendation which is likely to prevail, however, will not contain any provision for an actual date of adjournment, but will merely set a time limit upon the introduction of all new business, and reports from committees. This, in the opinion of supporters of the plan, will prevent snap judgment on important measures at the last minute, and possibly, prevent large appropriations, bills.

No figures on the state of business in the assembly is available, but it is believed that the lower house has finished a smaller proportion of its work than the senate. This is due largely to the large number of roll calls, re-references to committees, reconsiderations and postponements, the number of which in each case has been larger than in previous years. A statement of senate business, however, is at hand, and this is somewhat illuminating. It follows:

Senate bills: 586 have been introduced, of which 235 have been passed, 160 have "died," and 201 remain to be considered.

Senate joint resolutions: 18 have been introduced, of which 8 have been adopted, 1 killed, and 9 remain to be considered.

Assembly bills: 277 have been received from the assembly, of which 177 have been passed, 117 "died," and 83 remain to be considered.

Assembly joint resolutions: 2 have been received from the assembly, of which 1 has been concurred in and 1 remains to be considered.

Bills passed: 235 senate bills have been passed to the assembly, 117 senate bills have been returned from the assembly, and 118 are still before that house.

Sent to governor: 68 senate bills have gone to the governor, of which 65 have been approved.

Approximately 100 measures in the senate will be on the calendar of the next two days.

Eighty-five assembly bills have also passed the senate and have been approved by the governor. The total number of bills introduced in the assembly passed the 1,050 mark yesterday, and of that number it is estimated that more than one-third have not yet been considered.

ORDER BICHLER BILL ENGROSSED IN LOWER HOUSE

Bill Repealing Law Requiring Compulsory Test of Cattle Ordered Printed After Two Hours Debate in Assembly Today.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Madison, May 25.—After two hours' debate the assembly today ordered to engrossment the Bichler bill which repeals that provision of the tuberculosis law requiring a compulsory test of cattle.

The senate today passed the minor assembly amendments to the Hunting resolution providing the recall of all public officers. The resolution provides for an amendment to the state constitution and under the provisions of the constitution will have to again go through the legislature at a future session before being submitted to the people for a final vote.

The senate also ordered to a third reading the Crowell bill, already passed by the assembly, which enables state banks to qualify as depositaries of funds from postal savings banks.

The Gaylord bill authorizing cities to buy land for park purposes and to give mortgages on the same to insure payment of the purchase price also passed the senate, together with the Alvern bill authorizing fire and police commission of all cities in the state, except Milwaukee, to fix salaries for members of the fire and police departments. Under the present law this power is given the city council. The last two measures have yet to go to the assembly.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN LORIMER CASE IN SENATE TODAY

Several Senators Declare at Democratic Caucus They Will Support La Follette Resolution For Special Committee Investigation.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Washington, D. C., May 25.—A new turn was given the Lorimer case today when a number of the Democratic senators declared in a party caucus they would support the La Follette resolution which places the conduct of the proposed new inquiry in the hands of a special committee of five new senators rather than leave it with the regular senate committee on Privileges and Elections.

A majority of the Democratic senators, however, said they were in favor of the Martin resolution which enlarges the scope of the inquiry to include the famous "jackpot" fund at Springfield.

It was also declared today that the Martin resolution would have the support of the regular Republicans when it is offered as a substitute both for the La Follette and the Dillingham resolutions.

La Follette was not able to finish his speech in the senate today, as he was insisted upon his right to talk on the second class mail privileges.

RUMOR THAT M'VEAGH WILL LEAVE CABINET

Secretary of Treasury Leaves Kansas City and It Is Reported That He Will Resign.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Kansas City, Mo., May 25.—Secretary of the Treasury McVeagh left here for Chicago today, and behind him, in financial circles, was the rumor that he would resign his cabinet position on June 1.

SHOOTING RESULT OF QUARREL OVER WINE

Well Known Wine Agent Fatally Wounded By Opponent in Controversy At Denver.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Denver, May 25.—Quarrel over the merits of wine is cause of fatal shooting of Van Phul aged thirty two, of St. Louis, a wine agent and famous balloon pilot by Frank H. Henwood, agent of the Globe Glass Company of New York last night. Henwood's bullet also wounded two other men. The trouble started at the Brown Palace hotel bar, Honwood in jail. Van Phul is in a hospital and can not survive the day.

Van Phul died at eleven thirty this morning.

LAWYERS SUMMONED BEFORE COMMITTEE

Attorneys Who Are Supposed to Have Acted for National Grange in Opposing Reciprocity, Ordered to Appear Monday.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Washington, May 25.—Allen and Graham, the New York attorneys who, it is said, have acted for the National Grange in opposing the reciprocity agreement, have been summoned by the senate committee to appear on Monday with the object of finding out "just who" is behind the fight on reciprocity.

TAFT DECIDED THAT NO PAROLES WILL BE GRANTED TO BANKERS

Neither John R. Walsh or Charles W. Morse Are to Be Freed From Prison.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Washington, D. C., May 25.—President Taft has decided that neither John R. Walsh, the convicted Chicago banker, or Charles W. Morse, the convicted New York banker, shall be paroled from the Leavenworth or Atlanta government prisons, where they are serving time for their offenses.

In the case of Walsh, whose health is poor, it was stated that he could, by the first of next September, be paroled by the board of pardons.

The cases of the men Taft was asked to pardon, Charles W. Morse of New York, and John R. Walsh of Chicago, were paroled in many respects. Both were convicted of irregularities in the use of bank funds which they controlled. Each rose from poverty and obscurity.

The downfall of Morse followed the panic of 1907, during which he failed to produce $500,000 demanded by the New York clearing house. Morse then owned the National Bank of North America, controlled twelve other banks, owned six steamship lines, a telephone company, and had just retired from the commission of the local monopoly of New York and vicinity.

After the panic Morse was convicted of misappropriation of funds and owed $7,000,000. He was confined in the Tombs, but was allowed to visit his office and succeeded in paying $5,000,000 on his indebtedness.

On January 3, 1910, he went to the Atlanta penitentiary for a term of fifteen years. On that day his wife began a fight for his liberty, which culminated in a monster petition for his pardon being presented to President Taft.

The failure in 1905 of Walsh's Chicago banks resulted in his indictment on 182 counts in January, 1907. He was convicted on fifty-four counts and on March 13, 1908, began a five year term at the Leavenworth penitentiary. He is more than seventy years old, and pardon federal prison.

Not Downhearted. Leavenworth, Kansas, May 25.—John R. Walsh, the aged convicted Chicago banker, was not downhearted in the federal prison here when he heard the news of the adverse decision of President Taft in his plea for parole today. He smiled, sat down and seemed relieved. He said he did not expect a parole and would wait until September to be pardoned.

Married in Beloit: Miss Ella Pratt and John H. Holmes of this city, were married in Beloit on Monday night. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. W. Hatch of the Baptist church. Both are well known in this city.

CENSUS FIGURES FOR ENGLAND GIVEN OUT

Gain of 10.91 Percent Shown in Population of England and Wales in Ten Years.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) London, May 25.—A population of 36,075,269 is given England and Wales in the 1911 census, an increase of 10.91 percent in ten years. Greater London's population is 7,251,335, an increase of 10.21, this is 2,480,000 larger than greater New York which gained 38.4 in ten years.

LA CROSSE VISITED BY A MORAL UPLIFT

Police Authorities Plan to Introduce Woman Social Worker to Do Away With Evil.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) La Crosse, May 25.—A great moral uplift for La Crosse in the program of police authorities who will import a woman social worker to frequent the public dance halls and wine rooms in an effort to save girls and boys from ruin. Such songs as "The Grizzly Bear," "Every Little Movement," "That Lovin' Rag," and other popular selections, equally suggestive, will also be strictly tabooed.

DISSIDENTING JUDGE SETS FORTH VIEWS AS TO DECISION OF COURT'S MAJORITY

Associate Justice Disapproves of the Finding of Majority of Court As to Standard Oil Case.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Washington, May 25.—A vigorous opinion setting forth in stronger language his dissenting views delivered orally from the bench, was filed in the supreme court of the United States today by Associate Justice Harlan in the Standard Oil case. He scores the other eight members of the highest bench for "interfering with the people the source of all legislative power," and sets forth his belief that the majority opinion, instead of banishing oil, will result in much litigation, the injurious effect of which will be felt for many years to come. His argument against the reading into law of the word "unreasonable," referring to the prohibition of combinations "in restraint of trade," is set forth at great length.

Further Views. Justice Harlan also said the supreme court had solemnly adjudged many years ago that congress, when it said there should be no restraint of trade in any form, meant what it said and in clear and explicit words, and that it could not add to the words of the Sherman anti-trust act, but those who condemned the action of congress are now informed that the courts will allow such restraints of interstate commerce as are shown not to be unreasonable or undue.

STATE TAX WILL BE LEVIED THIS YEAR

Several Committees and Experts Are Busy Deducting Amount That Will Be Needed This Year.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., May 25.—It will be impossible to avoid the levy of a state tax this year, according to a member of the joint finance committee of the legislature today.

The committee, which has in hand all the appropriation bills, has been working with the state tax commission and has had an expert of its own to aid in tabulating the financial state, and has come to the conclusion without being ready at this time to say how much the excess of money needed over estimated receipts will be.

The estimate of receipts is about $82,000 for the next year, while the appropriation asked for the state charitable and penal institutions alone is about $700,000.

The committee has not yet prepared definite figures, and the amount of the tax in any event will have to be figured by the tax commission and the state executive and administrative departments.

In the past decade the state tax has been remitted several times and on several occasions has been comparatively small.

DEATH IN WAKE OF TRESTLE COLLAPSE

One Killed, One Fatally Injured and Another Seriously Hurt As Trestle Gave Way.

(BY UNITED PRESS.) Milwaukee, May 25.—One man was killed, another probably fatally hurt, and a third seriously injured today when a trestle-work on the docks of the Pennsylvania road gave way, burying the men under the fallen timber. The killed: U. T. Sanborn; the injured, Paul Corson, commission of the brain; will die. August Nash will recover. The men were employed about the docks when the steamer, H. Wolf, was discharging its cargo of coal. It is believed the heavy hoppers passing over the runway weakened the supporting timbers.

WARSHIP WYOMING IS LAUNCHED TODAY; ONE OF THE LARGEST

Another Big Fighting Machine For Uncle Sam Takes Water Today.— Said To Have No Equal.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—Surpassed by none and equaled only by her own sister ship, which is not yet completed, America's latest and greatest warship, the battleship Wyoming, was launched today from the yards of the Cramp Ship and Engine Building Company at Kensington. There was no untoward incident to bar the ceremonies, which were witnessed by a distinguished gathering of naval folk and official representatives of the State of Wyoming, in honor of which, Commonwealth the powerful sea fighter was named.

For the first time in the many years that the Cramps have been building the big fighting machines for the United States navy the general public was barred from attending the launching. No one was permitted to enter the yards without a card of admission. The enforcement of the new rule was strict, according to the explanation of the company officials, to extraordinary conditions arising from the great size of the Wyoming. So large is the magnificent hull that it completely filled the great shed built over the cradle and rendered it impossible to build the customer stand about the prow for the accommodation of the spectators. Provision was made only for the christening party and a few distinguished guests.

The christening party, headed by Miss Dorothy Eunice Knight, daughter of a former chief justice of the Wyoming supreme court and sponsor for the big battleship, took up their positions near the nose of the big ship. A few minutes later there was a rending sound and snap, the weakened under beams gave way and as the Wyoming moved down the ways Miss Knight hurled the bottle of sparkling wine at the prow and exclaimed in a clear voice: "Christen thee Wyoming!"

The gigantic battleship slid down the tall-greased ways with the lightness of a frail life boat. As she righted herself far out in the stream and was taken in charge by several tugs the great crowd of spectators gave vent to its enthusiasm. To the cheers of the onlookers was added the deafening noise of hundreds of whistles from the factories and shops along the shore and the many river craft.

The battleship Wyoming is declared to have no equal afloat as a first-class fighting machine. She is of 26,000 tons displacement, or 3,320 tons greater than the British battleship Conqueror, which launched a few weeks ago.

The displacement of the Wyoming is 4,000 tons greater than that of the Delaware which has been in commission less than a year, and nearly 15,000 tons greater than that of the Oregon, which scarcely more than a decade ago was known as the "Billow of the Navy."

The armament of the Wyoming will consist of twelve 12-inch and twenty-two 5-inch guns, and broadsides of twelve 12-inch and eleven 5-inch guns. The twelve twelve-inch guns will be mounted in six turrets on the center line of the ship, two forward, two aft and two midships. Each turret is to be protected by armor twelve inches and eight inches thick, and supplied with ammunition by electric hoists from the magazines and shell rooms below. The entire loading of the guns will be done by electric hoists.

For defense against torpedo boat attacks there will be provided a battery of twenty-one 3-inch rapid-fire guns, protected by armor of medium thickness. Close subdivision and strong bulkheads will form additional protection against the damage likely to result from mine or torpedo explosions.

The principal dimensions of the big battleship are as follows: Length on load water line, 554 feet; length over all, 562 feet; beam over armor, 83 feet, 2 1/2 inches; trial draft, 28 feet, 6 inches; trial displacement, 26,000 tons; trial speed, 20 1/2 knots an hour. The main belt armor will be about eight feet wide and will have an average thickness of ten inches. Above this is to be another belt of ten inches average thickness, and still higher amidships, is the casemate armor protecting the secondary battery and funnel bases. At the ends of the main belt are transverse armor bulkheads. Each bulkhead is of armor varying from four inches to eleven inches in thickness, which protects the entire ammunition-handling machinery for the 12-inch guns in the turret above. A strong protective deck extends all fore and aft.

The Wyoming will be fitted for a flagship and her complement as such will consist of 85 officers and 1,030 men. It is expected she will be ready for commission by the end of the year.

SHAM BATTLE IN AIR IS PLAN AT CHICAGO

Management Will Try to Have Government Arrange Mock Attack on Chicago From Lake.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Chicago, May 25.—The managers of the International aviation meet, to be held in Chicago in August, hope to have the government bring about a battle in the air. The plan is to have an aeroplane attack upon Chicago from Lake Michigan, and defense also by aeroplanes. President Taft is to be in Chicago, June 4.

LAST KENTUCKY HANGING: ELECTROCUTION LAW NOW

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) Frankfort, May 25.—Kentucky's last execution by hanging took place this morning when a negro murderer was executed. Electrocution law is now in effect.

TRANSPLANTING TO BE STARTED EARLY

QUITE AN AMOUNT OF TOBACCO WILL BE SET OUT NEXT WEEK, ACCORDING TO INDICATIONS NOW.

PLANTS SOON READY

Plants Have Grown Rapidly Under Favorable Weather Conditions—Small Movement of Goods Here.

Warm weather—of the past two weeks and the copious rains which have fallen recently have been all that the farmer could desire for the growth of the young tobacco plants. In fact, they have come, with such amazing rapidity that the season of transplanting will actually begin next week, which is the earliest season for setting tobacco in this locality for a number of years.

O. N. Coon, who resides in the town of Harmony, reports that his plants will be ready for setting the last of next week when he will have enough for his needs. With the present weather he expects to keep on with transplanting without any interruption. C. C. Decker, also residing in the town of Harmony, will also be ready for setting the latter part of next week. Both Mr. Coon and Mr. Decker expect to raise a large acreage.

Reports are current that several growers south of the city, living near the school for the blind, will be ready to plant by the end of this week, but actual work will undoubtedly be deferred until next week. At the present time there are many farmers who have plants which would be plenty large enough for setting but the old hand method of doing it and that better results are obtained when larger plants are set with the machine.

It is thought that all the tobacco will be in the field by the middle or the 20th of June, which will ensure an early harvest and better season for curing. It will also make for a finer and higher grade binder which will undoubtedly bring a good price, barring all prospects for damage by storm or insect pests.

In other sections of the country reports are to the effect that plants have been backward, Wisconsin seemingly being the best favored of any of the sections. In the south, in the Maryland and dark leaf tobacco states where, in this time, plants are scarce in many sections and little has been done toward getting the crop in the field. In the cigar leaf states outside of Wisconsin, reports vary, but they show that the planting season in Connecticut, New York and Pennsylvania is later than usual.

There is little to be said regarding the movement of goods in the local tobacco market. Sales which have been made recently are small and consist mainly of deliveries to the smaller cigar manufacturers. All but one of the warehouses have finished the work of sorting, G. H. Hummel having completed his run last Saturday. J. S. Baltes is still running "large" force and will have work for several weeks. He has received Virginia tobacco and that is being packed in cases at present.

This tobacco, which is the regular Pennsylvania broad leaf, is exceptionally fine and averages from 20 to 25 inches in length. Samples of this tobacco may be seen in the Gazette window.

The American Tobacco company have not as yet received all of their tobacco, but that which is still out will be shipped to Madison to the stemming factory, which will run all summer. About the only large purchase reported at this point during the past week is that of three carloads by Geo. H. Hummel, the first of which is being received today.

CANNING SEASON IS FAST APPROACHING

Pineapples and Strawberries Will be the First to Attract the Buyers—Vegetable Offerings.

With the opening of the pineapple season the housewife knows that the time for canning has arrived. This refreshing fruit will be on the market in large quantities the first of the week and prices will be such that they will be within the reach of all. At present, first rate "pines" may be bought for 10 to 12 cents apiece, and extra large ones are sold at 15 cents. Prices by the dozen and by the crate will be made during the early part of the week when more of the fruit will be received.

Strawberries are the other fruit which are in especial demand at this time of the year and prices are watched closely in anticipation of the coming season. The article now on the market is especially luscious and may be obtained at prices ranging from 10 to 15 cents a quart. Large quantities are received every day from Illinois and Missouri and the prices quoted on these in the Chicago market per crate of 25 quarts are $1.25 to $2.25. As soon as the local berries are offered prices will undoubtedly be lower, as prospects for a crop are good. The early part of June brings the first offerings of the local growers in this line.

The growing weather of the past several weeks has been a boon to the gardeners in the vicinity of Janesville and everything is bright for fine and early crops of peas, beans, and even the root crops such as potatoes, beets and carrots.

Janesville gardeners' produce on the market remains about the same as last week. More radishes and lettuce grown out of doors is in evidence but that is all that can be noted. Southern vegetables are of the same superior quality and the prices are for the most part unchanged. New potatoes remain rather high in price, retailing at 45 to 50 cents a peck, but an early crop prospect here will bring down the figure shortly. Other prices may be noted as follows:

Rhubarb, bunch—5c.
Asparagus, bunch—5c to 10c.
Green Onions, bunch—2c to 5c.
Parsley, bunch—5c.
Spinach, bunch—5c.
Lettuce, head—3c to 5c.
Cucumbers, each—5c to 8c.
Potatoes, old, per bu.—50c.
Potatoes, new, per bu.—15c to 50c.
Wax Beans, lb.—8c to 10c.
Peas, new, qt.—8c to 12c.
New Cabbage, head—10c.

Fruits.
Strawberries, qt.—13c to 15c.
Bananas, doz.—10c to 20c.
Grape Fruit, each—5c to 10c.
Oranges, doz.—30c to 50c.
Pine Apples, doz.—30c.
Apples, pic.—60c to 90c.

Tennessee Travelers Meet.
Tato Springs, Tenn., May 25.—Many delegates and visitors arrived here today for the annual meeting of the Tennessee grand council of the United Commercial Travelers. The regular business sessions will begin tomorrow and continue over Saturday. Grand Counselor M. E. D. Wallin, of Hartman, will preside.

Agua he folked them. Just as they were about to plunge into "Old Man Duet," he blew dust in their eyes, and went "up in the smoke."

CENTER OF TRADING WAS STEEL COMMON

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
New York, May 25.—Interest centered in steel common at the opening of the stock market today. About ten thousand shares were traded in opening sales being made at 78. There was a good demand at fractional declines.

A chorus of girls from all the graded schools will sing patriotic selections at the ceremonies in the morning. In the afternoon a chorus of fifty boys will give a song program at the Myers Opera House as follows:
"My Own United States"—Chorus.
"The Old Guard"—Chorus.
Solo by Ralph Bailey, seventh grade Lincoln School, with small chorus.
The three choruses have been rehearsed and will be well drilled by Mrs. George Hyde assisted by the teachers of the various grades.

OBITUARY.

Arthur Grad.
Arthur Grad, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grad, 605 Locust street, died this morning at half past four o'clock. The child had been sick for only about a week past and the death comes as a severe blow to the fond parents. Besides the parents there remains one sister, Laura Grad. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Charles Andrews.
Funeral services for the late Charles Andrews will be held from the home on Olive street at half past two Saturday afternoon. All the members of the city will be invited and the funeral will be held in a body.

Mrs. Orville Josephine Treat.
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Orville Josephine Treat were held this afternoon at three o'clock from the Oak Hill chapel. Rev. J. C. Hazen officiated and interment was made in the Oak Hill cemetery. The pallbearers were: W. H. Conrad, Will Holler, J. T. Fitchet and W. E. Clinton.

James C. Galdo.
Funeral services for the late James Galdo were held this afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence in the town of Whitewater. Rev. C. G. Forthoff officiated and interment was made in the cemetery at Johnstown.

Work of Time.
No great thing is created suddenly, any more than a bunch of grapes or a fig—Aristotle.

BOY SCOUTS—WHAT ARE THEY?

Why Does Not Janesville Have An Organization?

Boy Scouts is an organization of boys between the ages of 12 to 18. It is not a military organization, as many have supposed, but is a peace making among boys. There are over 300,000 boy scouts in England, and in America where the movement took shape in 1908 the number is rapidly approaching that of England. This is the most promising association of our time, and boys of all classes may become members. It teaches that loyalty belongs first to country and that country is only a general name for law and order. This modern out-of-doors movement is body building and character forming. The aim of the organization is to promote the ability in boys to do things for themselves and others. Scoutcraft consists of first-aid; life-saving; camping; hiking; signaling; cycling; nature study; seamanship; carpentry; woodcraft; civility; the virtues of discipline; endurance; and an effort to help someone else—doing a good turn every day to someone—and getting fun out of it. The Boy Scout movement comprises the attributes of the frontiersman in the way of resourcefulness and self reliance. The boys' motto is, "Be Prepared."

In June, 1910, in New York City, an organization was perfected and an executive committee was appointed, consisting of the following: men: Ernest Thompson Seton, Leo F. Humber, of the Playground Association; C. D. Pratt, Jacob A. Rike, Edgar M. Robinson of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., Collin H. Livingston, Daniel Carter Beard, Adjutant-General William Verbeck, Col. Peter S. Bonus, W. S. A. and Luther Halsey Gulick, Jr. These men will organize the National Council for the Boy Scouts. At almost every town of any importance is recognizing the movement, why not Janesville?

At the Public Library is to be found a Manual on Scouting, by Ernest Thompson Seton. This book furnishes a course of instruction for those desiring to become scout masters. These leaders train older boys as patrol leaders and these in turn train the younger members. Besides this manual, the library has many bulletins and leaflets on the Boy Scout Movement, explaining its meaning, its laws and its organization. The librarian has prepared a bibliography for scoutmasters and boy scouts, on this interesting topic, and this will be published later. The following is a reading list on the subject of Boy Scouts and what they are:

RUSSIAN NAVY IS IN BAD CONDITION
Fleet Improperly Kept Up And Ministry Of Marine Is Charged With Immense Craft of Funds For Warship.
[BY UNITED PRESS.]
St. Petersburg, Russia, May 25.—The Russian fleet is going from bad to worse according to detailed accusations formulated against the Ministry of Marine. During the last three years the Duma has voted fifteen million dollars as installments for the construction of four large battleships of the Dreadnought type, but the Ministry of Marine has misappropriated the money for entirely different purposes, including the provision of orange plantations to sweeten the lives of naval officers holding shore commands at the various ports and the purchase of new furniture for the official residences of the Minister of Marine in St. Petersburg.
The four battleships may be completed by 1913, but probably they will not be finished until several years later. One of the most curious features of Russian naval policy is that the battleships are not being built after a definite and complete plan, but the plans are elaborated during construction, section by section. Notwithstanding its inefficient condition, the Russian navy is maintained at an enormous cost, many obsolete vessels utterly useless for modern warfare being retained in the fleet.
The Duma has voted money and is willing to vote more for the creation of a new Black Sea Fleet, and the impossible condition of things at the Russian shipbuilding yards makes it probable that these new battleships will be ordered from foreign firms.

Portland's Annual Rose Festival.
Portland, Ore., May 25.—One million roses will be distributed free to visitors at the Portland Rose Festival early next month. From a small beginning, largely an experiment at first, the rose festival has become an annual event to which the whole Northwest looks forward with interest. The local committees are putting forth every effort to make the carnival this year surpass in magnitude and attractiveness the similar events in the past. The festivities will start off with a royal welcome to Rex Oregonus, the merry monarch who rules the entire week there will be a succession of attractive features, including the floral pageants, the battle of roses, an electrical parade, regatta and other outdoor sports.

To Execute Italian in Montreal.
Montreal, May 25.—The first execution of an Italian in the history of this Province is to take place in Montreal tomorrow. The condemned man is Francesco Grevello, convicted of the murder of a fellow-countryman named Giuseppe Chino. The local Italian colony endeavored to have the death sentence commuted, but the efforts proved fruitless owing chiefly to the sentiment created here by the large number of crimes committed by Italians in the past few years.

Municipal Officials Confer.
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 25.—Municipal problems of wide variety are to be wrestled with at the State convention of mayors and other city officials which began in this city today. Representatives of nearly all of the leading cities of New York are taking part in the gathering, which will be in session three days.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE.

In so far as the Diaz and Madero influences can control the situation, it seems highly probable that peace will at once be re-established in Mexico. Articles of agreement have been signed by authorized representatives of the regular and revolutionary governments, and announcement of the settlement has been despatched throughout the republic and to foreign countries. Assuming that the terms of the agreement be faithfully observed, a new government will soon be installed at the capital whose most important immediate task will be the restoration of good order in the isolated districts. The development and industry of Mexico, checked six months ago by the outbreak of rebellion, should now be promptly resumed. Thanks to the firmness of Madero in the handling of his followers, and to the obvious determination of the United States to protect foreign interests, the harm done has been much less than might reasonably have been expected, considering the opportunity for lawlessness created by the insurrection.

Among the 300 delegates to the peace conference, which began at Mohonk Lake, N. Y., on Wednesday, are some of the foremost advocates of international arbitration, men who for years have been closely studying every phase of the international peace question. Heretofore on all such occasions most of the time of the delegates has been taken up with discussions relating to the attitude of the great powers toward the arbitration and disarmament questions, and toward each other.

In view of the pending proposals for unlimited arbitration between the United States, Great Britain and France, it is to be expected that the present conference will be disposed to cling to established procedure in this respect. There is, to be sure, much to be said, and much to be done, with regard to the tremendous forward step which the peace movement is about to take, and thus consumed by the delegates in exchanging congratulations will not be wholly lost.

Human sympathy must continue to be a concomitant of every movement really worth while. But so far as this country is concerned, the counsel and moral influence of the Mohonk conference are very much needed with reference to a phase of the universal peace question that will not be touched by conventions between the United States and any European nation.

For geographical reasons, it is a matter of prime interest to this country that peace shall be maintained throughout Latin America. Of special interest is it to the United States that peace shall be preserved in those Latin republics lying nearest. While the greater work of bringing the powers into line with the universal peace idea is progressing and prospering, therefore, it would seem that the Mohonk and other similar gatherings would be serving a good purpose by giving consideration to such conditions as those recently existing in Mexico and other neighboring republics, with the view of determining how they can be met and overcome in their incipency.

This can be accomplished, of course, only by enlisting the cooperation of the Latin republics. Unlimited arbitration is the point toward which the civilized world is working. Unlimited arbitration means that there shall be no limitation to the powers of international judicial courts. Internal as well as external troubles, it is promised, will be brought before them for adjudication. The operation of international justice should permit of no exceptions. The Mohonk conference should be able at least to pave the way to a freer and fuller application of the international arbitration court idea, an application that would mean great things for these continents.

SUMMER REFLECTION.

Congress, the supreme court, all the other courts, the last of the legislatures, the colleges and schools, will soon have adjourned. There will also be two or three months of commercial repose. It has long been a custom honored in the observance to regard the period that is almost at hand as the "ally season." This, perhaps, is due to the manner in which a very large proportion of those released at intervals from their usual occupations comfort themselves. But the term is not a fair one. There is some thoughtlessness, some frivolity, some excess of gaiety, but most of it is due to an exuberance that is natural and innocent.

The serious man is very apt to drop his seriousness during this interval; the gloomy man is very apt to cheer up; those who are disposed to be morose are very likely to become hopeful; some who have taken themselves seriously through the rest of the year, and who have expected others to take them seriously, are caught in the act of unbending to the extent, perhaps, of becoming playful, and their conduct is called silly by the latest arrivals at the resort. There are many such. There are many who relax to an extraordinary and an unusual extent in a few hours after reaching the seashore or the country-side—who do things that it was never thought possible they would or could do. But is not this all for the best?

It is not silly to be happy. It is not silly to forget the workshop or the bench, the office or the desk—at times, it is the very depth of wisdom—to think to kick up the sand along the beach, to gambol on the meadow green.

Perhaps there is no other time in all the year when some people are as wise as they are during the brief interval in the summertime, when they are taking the world and all of its pretensions, impositions, anxieties and worries at their true value by laughing at them.

It looks as though Senator Stephenson will have to break his silence before he planned to if his fellow senator from Wisconsin continues to assert that Illinois added him in his election to the senate. Well, some interesting stories can be told when the time comes as to Wisconsin reform.

Strange that poker players object to having five aces in a deck, just as they did many years ago, when the game really flourished. One would think, with bridge and other games becoming popular, the fifth ace might be considered a necessity.

Chicago is having an internal war between paid "gun men," and as a result a few of the most desperate characters are fitting themselves for an extended visit in Joliet, or a still longer visit at one of the many Chicago cemeteries.

Judge Lynch is again holding court through several of the southern circuits. His terms are short and his execution is admirable. He does not stop to go through any unusual court formalities. The shorter the shift the better.

Aeroplane are apparently as dangerous to look at as they are to fly in. Perhaps some day someone will invent a machine that is safe, but if they do then the fun of the sport will be all gone.

It looks as though that "peace" pact signed down in Mexico was merely the opening wedge for a series of riots and outbreaks. Perhaps Uncle Sam knew what was coming when he established a summer camp down on the border line.

The move on the part of the local automobile owners to furnish autos for the accommodation of the veterans of the great struggle of '61 to '65, on May 25th, is a tribute to the work of these men in the stormy days of the country.

Now that the sun is shining, or he had to go home in the rain, the Chicago jurist who said it was permissible to steal an umbrella denies the report. Something must have happened any way.

Chicago work horses rebelled and the parade planned for Memorial day will be postponed, and the veterans to whom the day belonged will hold full sway.

Minneapolis Waldo has been named head of the New York police. The name is enough to scare the worst crook that invades the great metropolis.

Doubtless the Tobacco trust is most anxious to hear its fate. It is due on Monday next and matters will not be undressed, it is said.

Madero will have his work cut out for him in helping the government put down the rebellion that he really created.

"This investigation" of the lumber trust may affect Janesville and the Janesville prices.

PRESS COMMENT.

Laten, My Children!

Wausau Record-Herald: A bird built a nest in a fire alarm box in Oshkosh. The box made a good nesting place, but one day the bird inadvertently stepped on the little lever that makes the connection and in a few minutes the fire department was on hand looking for the conflagration. The habitation of the bird was promptly destroyed. All the trouble was caused by the bird not knowing that the nice little house was not intended for birds.

Ought to Know Better.

Rockford Republic: Some Los Angeles fortune hunters have embarked for Salvador with the expectations of unearthing alleged millions buried by the late John Alexander Dowle. The ones who were closest to Dowle are not getting excited and no one has so far offered the searchers as much as 30 cents for their chances.

Another Victory.

Helott Free Press: The Grand Army of the Republic has won another victory. The Memorial day parade in Chicago was knocked out by the world's horse parade which was scheduled for the same day. Nothing should interfere with the old soldiers' own day, which should be made a day of reverence for the heroic dead and for the heroic living as well.

Where the Enemy Isn't.

Milwaukee News: Diaz has planted cannon at strategic points about Mexico city. Which recalls a veteran's definition of strategic points as those where you expect the enemy to come but which he generally avoids.

All Together.

Milwaukee Free Press: Lord Lansdowne says the houses of lords must go. Victor Berger opposes the constitution needs rewriting. All together now, old tops, let's play, "Hounds Across the Sea."

A Pity.

Rockford Register-Gazette: It is the guess of some people that if the senate investigation goes deep enough Lorimer himself will discover that he was elected by crooked means. It is too bad to break such innocence.

And Still They Come.

Milwaukee Sentinel: A citizen of Lynn, Mass., claims that he set thirteen eggs under one of his thirteen chickens on the thirteenth of the month and got fourteen chickens. Let the doors of the Amman club be thrown open.

Just As Expected.

Marquette Eagle-Star: The shoe trust may set up the defense that it is not a soleless corporation. North Dakota made considerable talk about sending a hundred men to Washington to fight reciprocity, but in the end sent but seven. That is the way most of the opposition will dwindle, probably.

Pause and Consider.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Commenting on the opinion of a noted sociologist that the women of the future will wear suspenders and suspenders. The Philadelphia Inquirer remarks: Unless as a means of keeping the sandals on we are unable to see what useful purpose the suspenders will serve.

Up To Them.

Helott News: It will now be up to the "lumber trust" to prove that it is a "reasonable combination." It undoubtedly thinks it has good reasons of its own for existence.

Might Have Hit Bent.

Rockford Republic: Aviator Train, whose machine yesterday killed the French motorist, was war and dangerous. Injured the premier, seems to have selected his victims from the greatest in the land. Now if it had been Count Bent or others of his kind our grief could be controlled.

Ought To Help.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The latest statistics on the subject are to the effect that 82,000 American farmers own automobiles. This ought to help some in keeping three or four times that many boys and girls on the farm.

Get 'Em From China.

Montreal Times: Eggs are four cents a dozen in China. Why not import some, particularly as they would be fresher when they got here than the cold storage kind they hand out in winter?

Would Never Go There.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Queen Mary's refusal to recognize divorced women is a direct slap at American society. We fear that Queen Mary is not popular in Reno, Nev.

Was She Handcuffed?

Madison State Journal: The fact that women cannot shoot is emphasized by the statement of an Atlanta woman that her husband has been drunk for ten years.

Worked Both Ways.

Radio News: Sure, there are still official pickings—for some. Not long ago a Baltimorean was paid $10,000 by this government for adjusting the finances of Santa Domingo. It has since been learned that he also collected $100,000 from Santa Domingo.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)
By WALT MASON.

The gracious Queen Mary is sensible, very, an ornament, she, to the throne; her recent decision shows an clouded vision, and wisdom surpassing our own. Her anxiety QUEEN sitting in state in Great MARY'S Britain, has showed the DEGREE freak ladies away; and woman who wobble in harem or hobble or other outlandish array, must drink from the chalice of woe, for the palace is closed to the murdering throng; the noble high butler will swear like a sailor and tell them to money along. Says gracious Queen Mary: "These females contrary who dress like the barbarous Turks, are simply a scandal; their tailors a scandal; they give me a pain in my work; I'm not arbitrary," says kindly Queen Mary, "but while I am Althion's queen, no female courtesiers in called trousers around this old shack will be seen. These dress reformer marmalades can't come to my palace or slide on the royal collar door; and dames who would cravo or would merit my favor will dress in the same way of yore." I wish—it's no fiction—the queen's jurisdiction extended all over the globe, since dames have a passion for crazy-Jane fashion, and jeer at the time honored robe.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE SEVENTH DAY.

"Let it go till Sunday and I'll fix it." That was the frequent word of a farmer for whom the writer worked for a time when a boy. He employed his Sundays in the mending of harnesses and in such odd jobs.

It was his day for the solution of the week's farm problems. Brudging the six days, he piled up the leftovers for the seventh.

For a time this farmer prospered, but gradually he found himself out trying to get rich and died in middle life.

As the strings of a violin cannot always be put upon a strain, so a man cannot forever put his faculties on the stretch without losing his buoyancy and vitality.

For him and his there was no change of the deadly even tenor, no refreshment of soul, no spiritual vision.

Civilized man has discovered the fact that periodical rest and relaxation is vital to the health and sanity of human beings.

My Illinois farmer wore out his body by his incessant demands upon it. And he wore out his mind by monotonous employment, refusing relaxation or change of occupation.

The mind in no caged creature. It craves freedom.

While his neighbors took their families to church on Sunday morning this farmer made no difference in days, driving himself and his family to incessant labors.

For him and his there was no change of the deadly even tenor, no refreshment of soul, no spiritual vision.

He became like his Norman horses and died like one of them.

Do not spoil your Sunday. It is part of your sacred heritage and the oldest institution of civilization save one—the family.

It is a holy day not only in the sense of being sacred as a religious observance, but holy in the old Anglo-Saxon sense of holy—wholesome. Give your soul a chance.

Let it rise one day in seven on the wings of faith and trust to the spiritual hills, whence all its strength must come.

Do not spoil your Sunday.

Getting to Like Aged Cigars.

The number of Americans who are getting into the habit of appreciating age in cigars, as in wine, is rapidly increasing, according to an authority at the Waldorf. In the vaults under the Thirty-fourth street sidewalk is a big room where cigars are kept and one lot has been there since 1898.—New York Sun.

BELOIT MAN WANTS TO RUN
A PEANUT WAGON IN CITY

O. Knutson Has Sent Communication to Common Council Asking Right to Operate on South Main

O. Knutson of Beloit has sent a petition to the common council asking them to allow him to run a peanut and peanut wagon on the street at 21
South Main street. Knutson states that the wagon will occupy but little room and he will have it on the streets only on afternoons and evenings. He states that he is badly crippled by rheumatism and desires to invest in a wagon in order that he may engage in this work. It is his intention, if the council grants his request, to move with his family to this city.

MISSING MAN FOUND DEAD BESIDE TRACK AT KENOSHA TODAY

Walter Dackin, Who Worked for Wisconsin Telephone Company Here, Met Mysterious Death.

Word was received from Kenosha
this morning announcing that the body of Walter Dackin, who worked in Jamesville during the winter for the Wisconsin Telephone company, had been found dead beside the tracks of the Northwestern road this morning.
The body was said to be horribly mangled and it was only identified by a card in his pocket showing he had worked in Jamesville. The coroner of Kenosha county notified Chief of Police Amshy, who communicated with the Wisconsin Telephone company, who took up immediately with the Kenosha authorities.
Dackin was employed on the main distributing frame of the company
while it was installing its new system and boarded at the Park hotel all winter. He left Jamesville, May 10, to go to Kenosha, where he was doing similar work for the company.
A week ago he mysteriously disappeared and no trace of him was discovered until his mangled remains were found this morning near Kenosha.
Friends here believe he was murdered, but can not explain where the body has been until found today.
He had a mother living in Milwaukee.

RAISING FUNDS FOR BIG CELEBRATIONS

Finance Committee at Work Selling Bonds for the Coming Gathering of Troops in July.

Present indications are that Jamesville will entertain more visitors on July 3rd, 4th and 5th of the present year than in any three days previous.
The finance committee, of which John Gallner is chairman, have already begun their work of selling the bond issue of four thousand dollars that will be needed to furnish the means for carrying out the plans of the joint committee of the industrial and Commercial club and of the United Spanish War Veterans.

Over a quarter of this amount was raised last week and the remaining three thousand dollars must be subscribed before Saturday night of the present week if the committee can complete their arrangements for the big doings. Invitations have been sent to militia companies in several cities in the state and acceptance received from all but the city troop of Milwaukee, which find it impossible to be present.

Bands from five cities have been hired to furnish the music for the three days and the committee is now busy arranging for special trains to bring the thousands of visitors here who will attend the celebration.
Rooms at the hotels are already being engaged in advance for visitors who expect to spend the three days in the city presaging a large attendance.

The committee is charge of the celebration has received so many applications for concessions during the three days that toward paying back the bond subscriptions, it is thought, and will be put in the hands at once, working under direction of the committee, who will handle it exclusively. Bart J.
Ruddle of Milwaukee, who has had considerable experience in conducting similar events in that city and is at present in charge of the Auditorium, has been engaged to take charge of the bureau and will open headquarters in the store at the corner of the Myers theatre block, that has been donated by P. L. Myers, to the committee, as headquarters, in a few days.
John Fletcher, who has charge of the bands, promises an exceptionally good music during the three days.
One of the features of the parade on July fourth will be the combined band of forty-five pieces, of the Boyer City and Edgerton bands, that are both being drilled by the same leader in the same music.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Full House For Minstrels: The largest audience for any minstrel show in this city is on at the Myers theatre.
The show opened yesterday and this afternoon fully half of the down stairs seats were gone. The impression seems to have gained headway in the city that this is not the real Doctor that is coming to Jamesville.
It is unfounded and it is a guaranteed fact that Low Decker and his own troupe of black face artists will be here.

Special Meeting: There will be a special meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, in the W. C.
T. U. hall over Ziegler's clothing store,
Friday afternoon at 2:30. Every member requested to be present.

Man Not Inmate: Edward Wilson, the farmer who resides north of the city, on the Madison road, and against whom charges were brought by neighbors alleging that he was insane, was examined by physicians yesterday afternoon and adjudged sane. Following reports of his alleged insanity to his family, he was ordered to stop drinking and to leave the community.

Three in County Jail: Alvin Campbell and Al. Phillips, both of Beloit, were brought to the county jail here yesterday, to serve ten days each for being found on the streets in a drunken condition. They were both taxed three dollars each and were incarcerated on failure to pay. Alvin Munson of Edgerton, is also serving a fifteen day sentence for a similar offense.

HUTCHINS CASE PUT OVER TO SATURDAY

Madison Man, Arrested for Abandonment, Will Be Examined in Municipal Court Saturday Morning.

William J. Hutchins of Madison, who was arrested yesterday by Sheriff E.
H. Johnson on a charge of abandonment and failure to support his wife, Tillie Hutchins, was this morning arranged in municipal court and at the request of District Attorney Stanley Hess department. Officer Peter Chamberlain was set for Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

Hutchins, who is employed as a cook
in a Madison restaurant, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by John Zan-zinger, father of the woman. Hutchins is alleged to have deserted her on December 7, last year. That was fixed by Judge Fildes at $250, and Hutchins was committed to the county jail until arrangements could be made to secure the bail.

Hutchins was in the city yesterday,
called here by his mother, Mary Hutchins, relative to an action she is about to bring against her husband.
Zanzinger was in the city yesterday and notified the sheriff, who arrested Hutchins. With Hutchins, at the time of the arrest, was a young woman whom he claimed he had married recently in Minneapolis, and his mother.
They appeared in court this morning
when the prisoner was arraigned.

Zanzinger claims that his daughter and Hutchins lived together in Beloit, stating that they had been married in Belgium. Hutchins denies he was ever married to the Zanzinger girl, who is at present in Milwaukee. The case promises to be sensational. Hutchins' wife is standing by him and out with her arm around him while he was in court today.

AUTOS STOLEN IN CHICAGO RECENTLY

Thefts of Two Motor Cars Reported to Local Police and Officers Asked to Apprehend the Thieves.

Recent motor car thefts in Chicago have been called to the attention of the local police through requests from Chicago to be on the lookout for the stolen machines. On Monday night a Chalmers-Detroit machine, which was standing on Michigan avenue, was driven away and is now sought by its owner. A reward of one hundred dollars is offered for the apprehension of the party who stole it.

The car is described as a model 1910
Chalmers-Detroit "30," with four-passenger close-coupled or pony tourer.
The body is painted dark blue or green and the paint is in bad condition, having been scraped and peeled off. An Indiana number is painted on the radiator. The machine is outfitted with a cravette top, wind-shield, Prestolite tanks and five lamps with lamp-covers.

The other car stolen is thought by Chicago detectives, to have been taken by a young man named Chester Sweet and it is believed that the thief, with the auto, is headed toward Jamesville.
The machine is a five-passenger touring car, forty horsepower, E. M. F.
model 1911, with a Henry motor. It is painted bottle-green with a black stripes and has a gray mohair top and wind-shield. The automobile has the number 26658, Ill. on the rear. Sweet is described as twenty-four years of age, five feet eight inches tall, and weighs about one hundred and twenty-five pounds. He has blue eyes, dark brown hair, but is otherwise a blonde in appearance. His face is badly sunburned.

WILL RELEASE MAN HELD ON SUSPICION

Man Arrested Yesterday Afternoon
While Attempting To Pawn Jewelry Will Probably Be Allowed To Go.

Pending word from the Milwaukee authorities, a man who gave his name as Stephen Hobart was held at the city lockup today on suspicion. Hobart was arrested last night at the city lockup and was held yesterday afternoon in the second hand store, where he was attempting to sell the dealer a solid gold ladies' watch and chain, a gold ring with a ruby setting and a Parker fountain pen for $10. The man claimed that he was trying to sell the jewelry to get money to go to Cleveland, O. He told Chief of Police George Appleby that he had purchased the goods from a dealer on Minnesota avenue in Kansas City, but could not give the name of the firm from whom he bought them. The man stated that he had stopped at a hotel in Milwaukee and accordingly, the chief telephoned to that city, giving Hobart's description.
It was found that a man answering the description had been registered at the hotel, under the name of Stevens.
The articles found on Hobart were described to the Milwaukee police and the number of the watch taken in order that the Crown City officers might investigate and have the man held to be taken in case it could be found that the jewelry was stolen there. Up until a late hour, however, the Milwaukee authorities had not sent word to the chief and plans were made to release Hobart as he could not legally be held longer without preferring a charge against him. The watch, according to a local jeweler, was worth $25 and the pen is valued at four dollars.

The vigilance committee were foiled again. "Old Man Dost" gave them the merry Ha Ha and went "up in smoke."

FOUND SUIT CASE STOLEN SATURDAY

Property Stolen From Clarence Gustation of Whitewater Discovered
Under Galena Street
Viaduct.

A leather suit case stolen from the St. Paul depot in this city from Clarence Gustafson of Whitewater, was found last night lying under the Galena street viaduct over the railroad tracks. The viaduct was seen lying there by persons living in the neighborhood and word was sent to the police department. Officer Peter Chamberlain went to the place and brought it to the station and the name of the owner was found on some papers inside of it. The suit-case contained books, paper, and a student's bookkeeping outfit. From W. W. Dale,

THE THEATER

"The Girl From U. S. A." Evolution is the keynote of progress and it affects the theatrical business the same as any other field of endeavor, and producing managers have been forced to work their brains overtime to supply suitable plays for the fickle public's ever changing tastes.

The Harry Scott Company feel that "The Girl From U. S. A." which will appear at the Myers Theatre Saturday, May 27, will carry them into public favor, as well as separate the amusement going population from their hard earned dollars. It is from the pen of the well-known writer for one evening, Monday, May 29. Mr. Dockstader has not been seen in this part of the country for several seasons. While there can be no question that there has been a decline in the popularity of this once most potent form of amusement, Mr. Dockstader himself has been so far ahead of his competitors and has kept his show so far in advance of the times, that he has retained his popularity and there can be little doubt that he is just as big a "star" and as much in demand as any of the other prominent figures on the American stage. It is promised that this year his entertained to term it, has to do with an entertainment given by the Possum Hunt Club on the lawn of the club house of this well colored organization. The object of the meeting being to select a representative to accompany Doctor Cook on his search for the North Pole. They are all afraid of the proposition but finally select Professor Debbles, impersonated by Dockstader, as the victim, and he is obliged to go on the hunt. The story is carried out logically throughout the whole show, and the second part is a continuation of the first. This enables Dockstader to introduce no end of comedy situations and to substantiate the claim that it is a fun show throughout. There are a number of well known minstrel performers in the Dockstader company, among them being Carroll Johnson, an old timer, Eddie Mazzer, Happy Nauty, Charles Park, William Tennant, Frank Parren, Allan Campbell, Charles Raymond, Thomas Haynes, Willie Smith, and about seventy more singers, dancers and comedians.

Particular price is taken by Mr.

THE GIRL FROM THE U. S. A., MYERS THEATRE, SATURDAY, MAY 27.

Funke, Fish, and is said to contain a story of unusual interest, bright comedy, and a powerful dramatic plot, which is enlivened by several catchy musical numbers, and the stage settings are elaborate and correct in every detail.

LEW DOCKSTADER. The attraction at the Myers Theatre will be Lew Dockstader and his minstrel organization which will be seen ment is as up-to-date as any of the so-called musical comedies, and while it still retains the essential features of the minstrel show, he has, to a large extent copied the style of the up-to-date comic opera. In the first place, he has discarded the proverbial first part with the olio of vaudeville features following it, and the program will divulge the fact that it possesses a story quite as consistent as the average play. The plot as he is pleas-

Dockstader in the strength of the strong contingent of his organization, and the musical worth of the whole program. He carries his own orchestra, which is under the direction of Edwin V. Caporo, who is not only director of the scores of most of the musical numbers but is a composer who will be heard of in the future.

VAUDEVILLE DURING SUMMER AT MYERS

Local Playhouse Lensed to Beloit Men For Use as Vaudeville House From June 1 to August 10.

That the Myers theatre will not be dark this summer and that today will see the closing of a deal whereby Appleby and Johnson of Beloit will take a lease on the playhouse for the purpose of running vaudeville there all summer, was the statement of Peter Myers this morning. The Beloit men are the proprietors of the Grand theatre in the Line City and will lease the Myers theatre from the first of June until August 10. Negotiations have been going on for the leasing of the show house for several days. In all probability W. B. Appleby will manage the house himself and the plan now is to run two vaudeville performances an evening with matinees every Wednesday and Saturday. The idea of the lessors is to have a change of bill twice a week, running the vaudeville acts the first of the week at Beloit and bring them to this city on Thursdays. Popular sketches, songs and moving pictures will be the feature of the playhouse and as Mr. Appleby and Mr. Johnson are experienced in this line it is expected that the best of this kind of entertainment will be offered the people of Jamesville during the summer months.

The lease of the Beloit men will expire on the tenth of August and Mr. Myers will open his 1911-12 season on the fourteenth with "The Cat and the Fiddle."

D.J. LUBY Shoes at Cost Plus 5 Per Cent.

Not Only a Low Profit Over Cost, But a Low Profit Over a Low Cost.

Have You Ever Wondered Why Most Good Shoes Come From Massachusetts?

A traveller in Switzerland saw a child of twelve doing a wonderful piece of embroidery and marvelled at the proficiency of such youthful fingers. "It isn't surprising," said his guide. "That girls' parents, grandparents and great grandparents, back as far as she can reckon, were all lace or embroidery makers. They do nothing else in this valley. The best of the world's best needlework comes from here."

The Regal Shoe Company Has Long Been the Leader

In that section of Massachusetts where Regal Shoes are made, shoemaking has been the principal industry for more than two hundred years. The best shoes made in the world come from this section, and it has been the Regal policy from its beginning to make Regal Shoes lead all the rest in quality-for-price.

To lead in both quality and low price is harder than to lead in either alone. It is easy to get quality—if you don't care what it costs—but to give that quality at a low price means the highest degree of science in manufacturing in large volume, and straight-line, economical, direct, selling methods.

Why Regal Manufacturing and Selling Costs are Low.

To begin with, the Regal factory equipment is perfect. The Regal manufacturing system is a marvel of economy. The Regal cost-accounting, for example, shows the cost of over two hundred operations and more than one hundred parts on every shoe turned out, down to a hundredth of a cent.

But most perfect of all is the Regal, direct-line selling system—the Regal's own, although copied to some extent by other manufacturers. Regal Shoes go direct from the factories to you by the straightest, most economical route, cutting out jobbers, middlemen and large retailing profits. There is no lost motion, no lost time, no "overstocks," no unnecessary expense, anywhere.

And Regal Shoes are now sold at cost of manufacture, plus five per cent. commission, and this low cost of selling.

Regal Shoes are the only shoes priced in this way. It is the only scientific, economical, "square deal" way of selling shoes. You gain not only by the low margin of manufacturing profit but by the fact that this low margin is reckoned on a low cost.

Buying shoes as you buy other necessities of life

When you buy sugar, flour, eggs, beef, lumber—or any one of a dozen necessities, you pay a price reckoned on the wholesale market cost. If the wholesale or manufacturing cost goes down, the retail price goes down. If it goes up, the retail price goes up in proportion. When the retailer's profits are fair, this is fair to you. But this is not the way that shoes have been sold. Shoes have always sold at fixed, "even money" prices—always multiples of the half dollar.

But Regal Shoes hereafter will be sold in the scientific, economical way—with the profits kept low and the manufacturing cost as the basis.

This Stamp is your guarantee of the lowest possible price

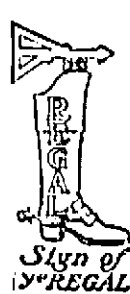

The price of every Regal Shoe is now reckoned at 5 per cent. over actual cost, plus the cost of getting the shoe from the factories to you. This price is CERTIFIED BY PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS AND STAMPED ON THE SHOE AT THE FACTORY. It is stamped just as it figures out—in "odd" prices or in "even" prices—and the old-fashioned arbitrary custom is done away with.

The stamp is your guarantee that the price is THE LOWEST FOR WHICH A SHOE OF THAT CHARACTER CAN BE BOUGHT, that nothing has been added to conform to shoe-trade custom, that MORE of the price goes into quality and LESS for profit and expense than in any other make you can buy.

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

DO WOMEN actually enjoy brooding over troubles—both their own and other people's?

I sometimes wonder that when I see a group of women avidly and apparently delightedly intent upon some lugubrious tale of illness or misfortune.

"Yes, isn't it the saddest thing you ever heard?" Her son comes home drunk after a night of terribly drinking, too, so that he stinks and laughs and wakes up the neighbors. And she says she sits up every night and a widow, and he has only one son. And they say she sits up every night in the dark by the window where she can watch for him. I declare, I almost cry sometimes when I hear him come in.

Doubtless Mrs. R., being a sympathetic woman, really was saddened by the tragedy of the poor little widowed mother sitting in the dark by the window straining her eyes into the night for the boy whose coming she feared as intensely as she longed for it.

And yet, if she were really moved almost to tears, if she really were saddened and depressed by the realization of the other woman's suffering, why then, did she pass along the story, knowing it would probably sadden and depress others?

Why, furthermore, did she tell it twice in the course of the afternoon when new comers arrived?

Why, moreover, did she tell it each time with new and vivid and depressing details, and almost—I truly say—of course, you have all noticed with what gusto any bearer of unpleasant news performs his mission.

"There is a diphtheria card on the Jones' door. They say it's the baby; and he's such a sickly little thing, too."

"Did you hear about Mrs. L.? Why, she was thrown from her carriage and broke her collar bone and three ribs, and they think she's injured internally."

"Isn't it terrible about Mr. R.? What, haven't you heard? Why, he's stolen several thousand dollars from his bank. It's all in the afternoon papers—his picture and everything. Poor Mrs. R."

"Can you deny that the bearers of news of that sort always seem to gloat over the previous misdeeds."

And yet we say: "Laugh and the world laughs with you, Weep and you weep alone."

I should think "weep and you have a delighted audience" would be nearer the mark.

FERNANDO DE SOTO.

May 25.—Fernando De Soto, the Spanish explorer, is the first white man who got a peep at the Mississippi river but is not responsible for the name with so many double letters. While the exact date of De Soto's birth is unknown, his family was of the nobility. At an early age he fell in love with the daughter of his rich patron, Don Pedro de Alva. De Alva wanted to break up the match, so he induced De Soto to take a trip to America in 1519. De Soto spent considerable time in exploration of the southern hemisphere. In 1527 he returned to Spain and married Isabella who had waited for over 15 years. Two years later he returned to America accompanied by his wife. He came as governor of Cuba by commission of Emperor Charles V. He also had permission to conquer Florida at his own expense. Some of the best of Spanish chivalry accompanied the expedition. Reaching Havana the women were left behind and the Soto started for the interior of the new world. He landed at the present site of Tampa May 25, 1539. The ships were sent back to Cuba and the march for gold began. The conquest was pushed west till the banks of the Mississippi were reached and there the Soto was taken ill with fever, died, and his body was committed to the depths of "the father of waters."

EGGS AND CANCER.

A reader asks, what shall we eat to be safe, if Dr. Malcolm Seymour of Boston is correct in saying that cancer may develop from the raw egg, the primitive cell of which may attach itself to some diseased part of the body, and develop an independent growth? Whether foreign cells may so be engrafted or not is doubtful, although the idea has the support of so eminent an authority as Prof. Metchnikoff, who says in his New Hygiene that he eats only cooked food, in the hope of escaping cancer. In his book on "The Human Plant," Luther Burbank says that when a plant is fed an unbalanced ration it is easily attacked by fungus growths. Cancer does not appear in a system properly nourished by a simple, nutritious food and free from the irritation due to accumulated waste matter. The condition favorable to the development of cancer, disorganization of nutrition due to incongruous mixing of foods, is easily avoided by eating a simple nutritious food and free from waste matter by drinking two quarts of water daily and exercising freely in the open air. Uncooked food is preferable, with few exceptions. So far as eggs are concerned, there is nothing in them which cannot be obtained better from milk, nuts or fruit. The writer has not eaten an egg in ten years, and expects never to eat one again, preferring butter, milk made from whole milk, and nuts as a supply of albumen, fat and mineral food found in eggs.

HOW MUCH SHALL THEY HAVE?

Just as soon as the boys and girls of the family begin to earn wages the question arises, "What portion shall they have for themselves? Should they be allowed spending money?"

This is a vital question. Upon it depends the whole character of the boy's or girl's future life. It is a matter that cannot be disposed of off hand, or in an arbitrary manner.

The boy wage-earner is a human being. To become a wage-earner he gives up the major part of his childish things. He sacrifices all the dear delights of boyhood that he may "pay his bills." The same is true of the girl.

Few parents realize how great is the sacrifice these young things make, or if they do, rarely admit it.

Just as early as possible boys and girls should be allowed spending money in proportion to the family means. It should come to them as a regular allowance. However, they should not be allowed to spend even the smallest amount without regard to the manner in which it is spent. Some idea of saving should be impressed upon their minds, but it should not be done in such a manner that it will cultivate miserly habits. And certainly, when a child begins to earn wages it should have something out of them for spending money. If the family circumstances are such that the money is needed for the common good, the child should be made to understand this, but still given something for his own.

If he wishes to save even this small amount towards some of his own personal needs, well and good. If he wants to spend it in some way that will give him a little real pleasure, no protest should be raised against it.

As the little wage-earner grows older he should be allowed to handle as much of his money as possible. But the older minds who have his interests paramount in their thought should endeavor to show him how to care for it. He should be taught to put away each week a definite portion of it, even if it is necessary for him to make some personal sacrifice to do it.

The child wage-earner should be taught from the first that he must contribute something towards the family funds representative of his own board. He should early be taught how to buy his own clothing to the best advantage. He should be taught that to be well dressed, in boy needs to buy the hazy things or the novelties that are so temptingly placed before him. In this way the boy is being trained to become competent to take care of himself, and he is having inculcated in his mind ideas of frugality and independence that will lead to his future happiness.

In too many families there is a disposition to take all from the children who work and to give them as little as possible and then only after a "scene." Mothers are likely to be harder in this respect than fathers. There are women who on Saturday night receive the pay envelope of every working member of the family and then refuse to give them any portion of it for pleasure or for the satisfaction of having a "few pennies in their pockets." Is it any wonder that members of such families become unmanageable or that hundreds of such wives occasionally "make things hot?" Surely after the long weary hours of a week in a shop or factory the father is entitled to spend to his own satisfaction some little part of his earnings. Justice demands that much, at least.

KATHERINE KIP.

Woman's Reason.

Elliott R. Hooten of Indianapolis was questioning a woman who was a reluctant witness, and he inquired: "Why did you leave that hotel?" "I object," shouted her attorney. Then began a wrangle concerning the admissibility of the question, which the court finally decided to be perfectly proper. Mr. Hooten then said: "Now, madam, please tell us why you left that hotel." "Well," she said, "Just because."

The purest altar from which prayers ever ascended to heaven is a mother's knee. The strongest strand in the cable that binds a man to his God is a wife's devotion.

Economic Suggestions.

There are so many rich and attractive dishes which we would like to afford; but the cost is in the way.

The rich steamed pudding which is such a favorite can seldom be served in homes of moderate means because of its expense. The following is a recipe that is especially good and one quite inexpensive.

Steamed Pudding.

Take one and a half cups of flour, two teaspoonsful of baking powder sifted well, a cupful each of suet, brown sugar, raisins, currants or chopped prunes, grated carrot, half potato, half a cup of orange peel, half a teaspoon of cloves and a teaspoon of cinnamon. Steam three hours. This pudding can be reheated and is good as long as it lasts.

When oranges are reasonable in price, orange marmalade is not an extravagance as it is used only in small quantities as a delicacy, yet an economical rule for making a marmalade which will take its place acceptably is the following:

American Marmalade.

Shave very thin one orange, one grape fruit and one lemon. Peel and core two small growing apples. Measure the fruit and add three times the amount of water. Let stand overnight; in the morning boil ten minutes. Let stand another night. Add an equal quantity of sugar and cook very slowly until it jellies. Stir as little as possible.

Mock Angel Food.

Mix together one cupful of sugar, a cupful of flour and two teaspoonsful of baking powder and a pinch of salt, five times, then beat into this mixture a cup of boiling hot milk; when smooth flavor and out and fold in the whites of two eggs. Bake in gem pans or layers for a change.

Small cakes baked rather thin and frosted are now the popular cake. A variety of frostings may be used, a filling may be laid on top of the small cakes and carefully covered with a boiled frosting.

Nellie Maxwell.

Count Your Blessings

By Byron Williams

Grandma Dixon sat for years in her rocking chair and knitted. Knitted dainty shawls and scarves. Knitted caps and neckties that fitted. Grandma Dixon's creed was this, "As she sat among her loved ones, 'Life is joyous if we wear Gladness smiles upon our faces!'"

She was poor and lived alone. In a tiny one-chambered cottage. But she tried to smile and say: "Gladness holds a lot of postage! It is not the house that makes Happiness for those within it—Don't you hear the liquid song of that poor, imprisoned lark?"

When our folks were sore and sad, "Cheer them the things that trouble; I have heard my mother say: 'She's a wonderful physician!'" And the only thing she did was to help them count their blessings! It was better than a week's sympathy or soft cursing!

"Count your blessings," Grandma said. "Lay aside the things that trouble; Just enumerate your woes. Call your boys up for review—Then go out and start to borrow! March your army up the hill And obliterate your sorrow!"

Sometimes, I can never forget How her creed would struggle and sear. How her very thoughts she breathed Used to start a flood of gladness! When the road is dark and drear, I turn into pathways sunny, Count my blessings o'er and o'er "Till I'm happy? Aint that funny?"

"Till I'm happy as a thrush Flooding all the wood with singing; 'Till my troubles flee away On the fragrant breezes whining; 'Till my heart just wells and wells And at last, it bubbles over, Like a tinkling spring that croons Laughter eddies to the clover!"

Properly Applied.

"This paper," remarked an Irish woman to her husband as they sat at ten, "says that some fellow declares there be sermons in stones. Phwat g'yez think av that?" "O! dunno about the sermons," replied the good man, "but many a good argument has come out av a brick, O!m thinkin'."

NEW CONTEST STARTS FOR WOMEN READERS

Organization is necessary in almost every line of the business world, in this day and age. If this be true why not apply it to the home? If it is good for the office, the factory, the work shop, why not for the house?

This is merely a suggestion as to the handling of the present contest. Of course the home cannot be run on the same lines as a work shop, while it is a work shop in itself, still organization of the energy used in producing the best results can be made a time-saver.

The idea of the present contest, "How to plan a week's work for a home where the mother does her own work," is to get ideas that will be useful for others. It may mean the saving of a lot of time and worry these coming hot days if the home can be organized.

Write the letters on one side of the paper and address "Feature Editor," care of the Gazette. If you have any suggestions to make also address the "Feature Editor." The following is the list of prizes.

First prize—Ladies gold filled watch with pendant.

Second prize—Dance Courtesy Cook-book.

Third prize—Set of kitchen knives complete.

Fourth prize—$1.50 in currency.

Fifth prize—Pair of accurate weighing scales for kitchen use.

Need for Women Architects.

It is a practically accepted axiom that there are no two women architects, for, if there is one subject more than another in which woman's talent is required, it is domestic architecture.—From the Queen.

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on the bowels as pepper acts in the nostrils.

We all need a laxative sometimes. How often we need it depends entirely on how we live. If we exercise lightly and eat the right food, we need a laxative only occasionally.

But if we live indoors, and get too little laxative effect in our food, we may need to get it quite frequently in some other way.

Nobody can doubt the need for a laxative. The only question is: Which one is the best? And that isn't a question now. Cascarets are known to embody the only laxative which acts in a gentle and natural way.

Cascarets do not merely cleanse the bowels. Cathartics and salts, acting as pepper acts in the nostrils, flush the bowels with fluids. But those fluids are digestive juices, and we will lack them tomorrow if we waste them today.

Cascarets alone cause the muscles of the bowels to act the same as some foods will do. Carry them with you. Take one when you need it. You will then enjoy all the good effects of keeping the bowels clean. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. The price is 10 cents per box.

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sun are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows: "When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to the shoulders and now it is over my shoulders."

Another from Newark, N. J. "I have been using Danderine regularly. When first started to use it I had very thin hair, now I have the most beautiful and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other hair preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all the other hair preparations in the world combined.

BULLETIN COPIED FOR GENERAL USE

REQUEST FOR MORE INFORMATION AS TO DANDELION ERADICATION.

HOW TO GO TO WORK

Statement Prepared By H. L. Bailey of the North Dakota Agricultural Experiment Station.

Some days ago the Gazette published a resume of the work being done by the experimental board of the North Dakota and Minnesota agricultural colleges relative to eradicating dandelions from the lawns. Since then many requests have come for further information and the following bulletin of the North Dakota Agricultural college is printed in full.

There are many calls upon the Agricultural Experiment Stations to give advice as to how to eradicate dandelions on lawns. Complete eradication of this weed is probably an economic impossibility for the obvious reason that it has killed a world wide distribution in waste places and from there it may always be expected to furnish seed for general distribution upon lawns, parks, meadows and roadsides. Its wind blown seeds are produced at almost all times of the year and may be expected to be present in large numbers upon any piece of ground.

Many of our best parks and lawns are kept free from these weeds by persistent diligence in using the sprayer or knife, cutting below ground. This method, if sufficiently persistent, will eventually destroy the old dandelions, provided only the person who does the cutting does not allow any leaves to come to light. The dandelions being perennial, rooted, stores up a large amount of reserve food material in its roots. Persistent destruction of the leaves prevents food making and even old roots must die if sufficiently starved in this manner. This station has conducted a number of cutting tests upon old dandelions and young dandelions and we find that any part of the root below the ground when in a normal state will send up new plants after being cut off. Plants readily sent up shoots from roots that were cut three and four inches below the surface. The more often they are cut off the weaker become the offshoots. The trouble with the process of cutting is that the surface of the lawn is kept too much disturbed for the formation of a good turf and the method actually demands too much labor.

Another means of keeping this lawn pest in check is heavy seedling. At the start the lawn should be given an extra thick seedling of the lawn grass, preferably blue grass. Many lawns are kept in good condition and free from dandelions by constantly keeping the ground well supplied with blue grass seed. A very satisfactory seedling calls for the use of from 5 to 10 lbs. of seed upon a 100 by 150 lot once every three months, April, July and September. Keeping the lawn thus well supplied with grass seed, keeps a fine mat of grass over the area, preventing bare spots wherein dandelion or other seeds may lodge and germinate.

As the weed is a sun loving one, the young plants cannot withstand a dense growth of young grass, so that lawns which are well supplied with grass seed, and are regularly mowed, give little chance for it to get a foothold. Under this method, old plants must be uprooted as they are sturdy enough to hold their own.

White Clover.
Good success has been obtained in using large quantities of white clover seed upon areas infested by dandelions. White clover, under ordinary conditions, if the drainage is good, withstands the climate well and is immune from crowding out most grasses and weeds. However, it sometimes dies out on large areas, leaving the lawn spotted and unsightly, then the dandelion readily takes charge. The white clover method is most approved for roadside improvement. Road supervisors and street commissioners should, after the streets and ditches are properly graded, seed the roadsides and ditches to white clover and blue grass, covering any possible bare spots with fresh seed each spring.

Fighting the Dandelion.
Fortunately, our experiments show that a new method of fighting dandelions will give success. The man who is sufficiently patient and persistent to make a success of the work which demands constant observation and is doing at the right time, will have no difficulty in maintaining a weed free lawn. The dandelion may be eradicated in blue grass lawns, in parks and meadows and road sides, without injury to the grass, by means of chemical sprays properly applied and applied at the right time. This does not mean that the weeds will stay out. As near as the writer can state, it will be necessary to spray the lawn in the region of Fargo approximately once a month to once in six weeks throughout the first year in order to destroy the old dandelions. During the season of 1907, four times spraying completely destroyed a heavy growth of new dandelions and sent those of more than one year's growth into winter without any foliage to supply them food for the coming year.

With a proper spraying machine and eight hours labor the lawn was apparently freed from dandelions. Of course, there are millions of wind blown seeds over ready to germinate. I can safely vouch for the statement that spraying when properly undertaken is a much cheaper means of disposing of this lawn pest than any other mode now in use, and that the grass need in no way be injured. The writer was able to prepare a solution and properly spray an area approximately 150 ft. by 70 ft. in two hours time. It would, of course, be impossible to cut but a few dandelions in this time. Plants, though more hardy, also gradually die out under the spraying.

Apparatus.
For ordinary lawn purposes the ideal apparatus is the compressed air type of hand spraying machine. It is necessary that sufficient pressure be maintained by the pump to make a forceful spray of a fine form. If the liquid is thrown in large drops, the grass will be more or less injured and the very young grass roots beneath the will have slight power of resisting the action of the chemical. The capacity of the tank should be approximately three to four gallons and it should be of such neat construction that one can readily carry it about without soiling clothes. Necessarily, if it is properly air tight it will be free from leaks and chances to spill liquids.

The machine should be fitted with about three or four feet of 1/2 inch pressure hose and a three foot brass extension rod allowing one to readily swing the nozzle over the lawn. The nozzle should be of such a nature as to throw a fine, flaring, but compact spray. For city parks, roadsides and the larger lawns some of the horse power spray carts will be found desirable. Cities and towns will find it an economical way of grassing the roadsides and causing the destruction of unsightly weeds. Every city and town should possess one or more good spray carts and several hand sprayers, the latter to allow spraying to be done in waste places, difficult to reach with the field sprayers. A man can readily spray over an area as fast as he would mow over it whether he is working by hand or with a team. The team sprayer is rather more rapid in action than a motor as the machine allows of traveling over rougher ground. The field sprayers should be fitted with an air pressure tank, should have a pressure gauge and should be capable of producing a pressure approximating 150 lbs.

What To Use.
The most satisfactory substance for general work upon dandelions and miscellaneous roadside weeds is iron sulphate, used at the rate of approximately two pounds for each gallon of water. On lawns for dandelions alone where a hand machine is used the strength of one and one-third to one and one-half pounds per gallon will be found to give the desired results, though, if the dandelions are large and coarse and the grass hardy, two pounds for each gallon of water will give best results. A fluid sprayer should be adjusted to throw approximately 52 gallons of solution per acre. With the hand machine one gallon will cover one to five or six square rods, according to the condition of the weeds and grass. When the lawn grass is fine and the weeds are small and thick, one should not try to hit only the dandelions, but should spray evenly over all. A string guide will be found of advantage. If work is well done, all dandelions will be evenly wet as if by a heavy dew.

When To Spray.
On lawns do not spray until two or three days after cutting. It is best to allow the grass to grow to full length for mowing; this allows the dandelion leaves to present a large absorbing surface to the action of the chemical. Do not mow the lawn until from two to three days after spraying. Spray on bright, sunny days. The lawn should be prepared for spraying so that it will not need to be watered for two or three days after spraying. Select any day when it is not liable to rain within the next day or two, as heavy rain immediately following will destroy the weed killing powder. The midsummer and late autumn spraying seems to be most effective, probably because the roots are absorbing food matters from the tops most rapidly preceding these periods of rest.
Make the lawn off clean after each mowing. Whatever the method used for eradication of the dandelion, a fresh supply of blue grass seed scattered on the lawn each June and September will surely repay the cost. Care should be taken to observe that the seed does not contain a percentage of dandelion or plantain seeds.

FARMHAND IS GIVEN A HEAVY JAIL TERM

Fred Johnstone, Employed Near Janesville and Guilty of Attacking Wife, Sent to Waupun.

Fred Johnstone, the farm hand employed near this city, who pleaded guilty to the charge of committing an assault upon his wife with intent to do great bodily harm, in the municipal court at Madison, was sent to the state penitentiary at Waupun for 18 months. He is to perform hard labor and spend one day in solitary confinement.

Owing to the seriousness of the offense District Attorney Nelson of Dane county, recommended a substantial sentence.
Before pronouncing sentence Judge Donovan of the Madison court announced that Mrs. Johnstone had requested him to be as lenient with the prisoner as possible.
"Her appeal has had its effect upon me, as otherwise I could be more severe with you," said the judge.
Johnstone slashed his wife and her sister, Mrs. Matthews Main, with a pocketknife at Oregon last Saturday afternoon. He and his wife had been separated for some time.

PORTER.
Porter, May 24.—Miss Gertrude Desmond of Baraboo, and Miss Leta Achison of Evansville, who are attending Whitewater Normal, were guests of Miss Katherine Nichols over Sunday.
Florence McCarthy and Edward Casey were over Sunday visitors in Joliet.

Miss Beatrice Fessenden and Sylvia Severson were in Madison a few days this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Achison of Evansville were guests of G. W. Nichols on Sunday.

Miss Mary Severson has returned home from Madison where she has been working.
Melcher Luchinsinger and wife entertained their father, from Brooklyn, on Sunday. They made the trip in their auto.

Daniel McCarthy spent from Saturday until Monday with his son and family in Janesville.

School in the Stevens district closes this week, with a picnic on Friday.

Quite a few pupils from here wrote on examinations, Friday and Saturday.

Books the True University.
"The true university of these days," says Carlyle, "is a collection of books." The man who is not brought into intimate contact with books in his youth, who has not learned to love them and how to use them, suffers a loss which it is almost impossible to make good.

SUNDAY CLOSING OF EVANSVILLE OFFICE

Mail Delivery On Sunday Will Be Discontinued At Evansville.—Tourist Club At Banquet Board.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Evansville, May 24.—Postmistress Miss Martha Andrews stated this morning that she had received instructions from Washington to discontinue Sunday mail delivery at the local office. However, the general delivery will be continued for fifteen minutes each Sunday from eight o'clock to nine o'clock a.m., for the accommodation of transients, or those receiving first class mail of a very urgent or important nature. The post office lobby will be open from eight to nine a.m. and those having lock boxes will be able to get their mail.

The order came in response to a petition circulated here and forwarded to the post office department asking for Sunday closing and will go into effect next Sunday, May 28.

Tourist Club.
The members of the Tuesday Tourist club were given a banquet last evening by the Misses Lily and Ethel Lees and Mrs. Delbert Smith at the home of Mrs. Smith at Brooklyn. At six thirty the company sat down to a most sumptuous dinner. The table presented a pleasant view to the eye, the decorations being very elaborate. A May pole from which radiated pink, green and white satin ribbons, formed the center piece, and the table was further beautified with a dainty arrangement of maiden hair fern and lilies of the valley.

The programs and menu cards were hand painted by Lily and Ethel, and they baskets of white flowers were the favors. A most enjoyable program had been prepared and was given after the banquet.

Celebrated Birthday.
Charles Doolittle celebrated his eleventh birthday anniversary last evening by entertaining a company of twenty-eight friends. A merry time was had with various games.

Personal.
Mrs. Richard Carson and Mrs. L. J. Hill are spending today in Madison.

Miss Martha Andrews shipped sixteen registered shotgun ponies to northern Wisconsin yesterday. They were sent from Brooklyn and are part of a fine lot of thorough bred ponies which she has on a farm near there.

Mrs. F. J. Lowth and daughter, Geneva, and son, Lowell, left yesterday for Fond du Lac, where they will spend a week with relatives.

The Misses Eva and Ella Townsend will give a party to the high school seniors at their home near Magnolia, Friday evening of this week.

Mrs. S. Frost visited her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Blaine in Beloit yesterday.

William Wilson of Fond du Lac, is transacting business here today.

Miss Laverne Gilles went to Beloit today for a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hils of Madison, were Evansville visitors yesterday.

AWARDS MADE IN CLINTON MANUAL TRAINING CONTEST

Clinton Barnum and W. R. Hay receive First Two Prizes Presented By H. A. Moehlennah.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, May 25.—The prizes for the manual training work which H. A. Moehlennah presented, were awarded Monday afternoon and resulted as follows: Clinton Barnum, 1st, whose per cent averaged 30.25, prize $20.00; W. R. Hay, 2nd prize, percent average 28.35, prize $15.00; Sever Jensen, 3rd prize, percent average, 22.45, prize, $10.00; Albert Jensen, 4th prize, percent average, 22.35, prize $5.00. The boys all did exceptionally fine work and are deserving of great praise.

Other Clinton News.
The Y. M. C. A. will give up their present rooms in the Drake block at the end of their present lease.

Master Murry McNulty, has been suffering with the measles.

Miss Rachel Bonds has been a sufferer with neuritis.

Charles McCommons, who was very sick in Milwaukee and threatened with typhoid fever, is improving and the doctor was able to ward off the fever.

J. E. Kennermer yesterday sold the Charles Hennings farm of 80 acres across the creek north of town to Fred Haholz for $55,000 per acre.

The 20th century club met Monday night with Mrs. Spencer P. Reese, coronator of School street and Milwaukee avenue.

A very interesting program was enjoyed and the committee on the cemetery walk reported that the walk would be completed by Decoration Day the ladies deserve great credit for their magnificent work which will be a lasting monument to their public spirit. The money has all been raised, contract let and work actually completed in record breaking time.

Miss Della White, one of the assistant principals in our high school has decided to accept the offer of the Board of Education of her home town of Rhineland to teach in their schools at an increased salary.

The road committee of the county board were here yesterday viewing the road and work done on the new road south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Peterson, Mrs. O. Peterson, Mrs. Peter Swanson, and Carl Nelson, went to Rockford Monday night to attend the funeral of Mr. Newberg who formerly lived south of this place.

Former Beloit Girl
IS MARRIED IN WEST

Late Ex-Congressman Babbitt's Daughter Married to Soldier at Missoula, Montana, Last Thursday.

Miss Martha Louise Babbitt, formerly of Beloit, and daughter of the late ex-Congressman Clinton Babbitt of that city, was married Thursday evening, May 18, at Missoula, Montana, to Edward M. Hanter of Bayfield, Wisconsin. Following is an account of the wedding from the Daily Missoulian, telling of the affair:

"A romantic and a pretty wedding was solemnized at 8 o'clock last evening in the Presbyterian church, when Miss Martha Louise Babbitt of Beloit, Wisconsin, became the wife of Edward M. Hanter of Bayfield, Wisconsin.

Rev. J. N. Macdonald, D. D., performed the ceremony; Miss Edna Carls served as bridesmaid and Corporal Stoup as best man. The other guests were Miss Macdonald, Miss Opal McCarthy, Miss Genevieve Crouch and C. E. Burnett.

"Friends had made the house sweet with apple blossoms and the bride carried a lovely bouquet of sweet peas quite in harmony with her becoming gown of tan messaline. Miss Carls wore white and carried pink carnations. After the ceremony and showers of congratulations, the wedding party went to the home of Mrs. F. E. Evans on South Fourth street west for a wedding supper.

"The bride is the daughter of the late ex-Congressman Clinton Babbitt of Beloit, who was prominent and honored in state and national politics within recent years. Having come to Missoula for her health about six months ago, the young lady met her fate in the person of Private Hanter of Company L, Fourteenth Infantry.

The possibility of orders for service in the Philippines or in Mexico hastened the marriage, but kind friends in Missoula did their best to alleviate the loneliness of a wedding so far away from home. Mr. and Mrs. Hanter will remain in Missoula for the present, their plans for the future being not yet matured."

Experience Boy Will Remember.
While exploring one of the big disused Martello towers, near Waterford harbor, Ireland, which was formerly used for military purposes, a boy named Charles Cummins had a terrible experience a few days ago. When he pushed open one heavy iron door it suddenly banged and shut on his fingers. In agony, he shouted for help, but he was kept a helpless prisoner all night, and till late next morning, when he was rescued by a passer by.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

For sale by all leading druggists. Price 50 cents per bottle.

Bishop Ryan's Compromise.
The late Bishop Ryan was once asked by a fair daughter of his parish whether he considered it a sin to use rouge. "Well, my child," he answered, "some plump men condemn it, others see no harm in it. I, however, hold a middle course—you may use it on one cheek."

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Spread the glad tidings, Father is an heir.

He looked at her, puzzled at her attitude, and yet somewhat reassured by her expression of confidence. Oh, well, what was the difference? It might be better to let her have her own way, and the change would not materially interfere with his plans. Of course, it would be pleasant sitting together at one of Joe's tables, but he could talk just as freely out yonder under the stars. Besides, it might be as well now to humor the girl.

"All right, Christie," his voice reaching the pleasant tone. "You shall have your way this time. There is too much at stake for us to quarrel over this."

Frightened, yet not daring to resist or exhibit the least reluctance, she clung to his arm, and permitted him to lead her to the right down a dark passage and out into the open land beyond. He had to feel his way carefully, and scarcely spoke, yet proceeded as though the passage was reasonably familiar and he had some definite point in view. She answered in monosyllables, now thoroughly regretful of having permitted herself to drift into this position, yet not in the least knowing how to extricate herself. Hawley took everything for granted, her very silence convincing him of her acquiescence. With throbbing pulses, Hawley felt the small revolver hidden within her dress, undoing a button so that, in emergency, she might grasp it more quickly. Hawley felt the movement, the trembling of her arm.

"You are afraid, just the same," he said, pressing her to him lovingly. "Darkness always gets on a woman's nerves."

"Yes, that and loneliness," resenting his familiarity. "Do we need to go any further? Surely, we are alone here."

"Only a few steps; the ravine is yonder, and we can sit down on the rocks. I want to smoke, and we will be entirely out of sight there."

He helped her down the rather sharp declivity until both were thoroughly concealed below the spruce level. Feeling about with his hands, he found the surface of a smooth rock, and seated her upon it. Then a match flared, casting an instant's gleam across his face as he lighted his cigar. Blacker than ever the night shut down about them, and he groped for a seat beside her. She could perceive just one star peering through a rift of cloud, and in her nostrils was the pungent odor of tobacco. With a little shiver of disgust she drew slightly away from him, dreading what was to come. One thing alone she felt was in her favor—however familiar Hawley attempted to be, he was evidently not yet sufficiently sure of Miss Macleire to become entirely offensive. She might not have frowned at his love-making, but apparently he had not yet progressed sufficiently far in her good graces to venture to extremes. Here, pressed her lips together, determined to "forget" any "further" approach of the man. However, his earliest words were a relief.

"I reckon, Christie," he said slowly, between puffs on his cigar, the light end of which faintly illuminated his face, "you've got the idea I have brought you out here to make love. Lord knows I'd like to more important matters on hand. Fact is, my girl, we're up against a little back-set, and have got to make a shift in our plans—a mighty quick shift, too," he added, almost savagely.

"I don't think I understand."

"No, of course, you don't. You imagine all we've got to do in a matter of this kind is to step into the nearest court, and draw the money. One trouble is, our evidence isn't complete—we've got to find that woman who brought you up."

"Oh!" said Hope, not knowing what else to say.

"Yes," he went on, apparently satisfied with her explanation. "Of course, I know she's dead, or at least, you say so, but we haven't got enough proof without her—not the way old Walte promises to fight your claim—and so we've got to hunt for a substitute. Do you happen to know any old woman about the right age who would make affidavit for you? She probably wouldn't have to go on the stand at all. Walte will cave in as soon as he knows we've got the evidence."

He waited for an answer, but she hardly knew what to say. Then she remembered that Keith insisted that Miss Macleire had no conception that there was any fraud in her claim.

"No, I know no one. But what do you mean? I thought everything was straight? That there was no question about my right to inherit?"

"Well, there isn't, Christie," pulling fiercely on his cigar. "But the courts are particular; they have got to have the whole thing in black and white. I thought all along I could settle the entire matter with Walte outside, but the old fool won't listen to reason. I saw him twice to-day."

"Twice?" surprise wrung the word from her.

"Yes; thought I had got him off on a false scent and out of the way, the first time, but he turned up again like a bad penny. What's worse, he's evidently stumbled on to a sort of legal information which makes it safer for us to disappear until we can get the links of our chain forged. He's taken the case into court already, and the sheriff is here trying to find me so as to serve the papers. I've got to slip out, and solve you."

"I'm going to her feet, indignantly. 'What have I done to be frightened over?'"

He laughed, but not pleasantly.

"Oh, hell, Christie, can't you understand? Old Walte is after you the same way he is me. It'll knock our whole case if he can get you into court before our evidence is ready. All you know is what I have told you—that's straight enough—but we've got to have proof. I can get it in a month, but he's got hold of something which gives him a leverage. I don't know what it is—maybe it's just a bluff—but the charge is conspiracy, and he's got warrants out. There is nothing for us to do but slip."

"But my clothes; my engagement; she urged, feeling the instant's earnestness of the man, and sparing for delay. "Why, I cannot go, besides, if the sheriff is hunting us, the bodies will be watched."

"Do you suppose I am fool enough to risk the train?" he exclaimed, roughly, plainly losing patience. "Not much; horses and the open plains for us, and a good night the start of them. They will search for me first, and you'll never be missed until you fail to show up at the Tremors. Never mind the clothes; they can be sent after us."

"To-night!" she cried, awakening to the immediate danger, and rising to her feet. "You urge me to fly with you to-night?—now?"

"Sure, don't be foolish and kick up a row. The horses are here waiting just around the end of the ravine."

She pressed her hands to her breast, shrinking away from him.

"Not! No! I will not go!" she declared, indignantly. "Keep back! Don't touch me!"

Hawley must have expected the resistance, for with a single movement he grasped her even as she turned to fly, pinning her arms helplessly to her side, holding her as in a vise.

"Oh, but you will, my beauty," he growled. "I thought you might act up and I'm ready. Do you think I am fool enough to leave you here alone to be pumped dry? It is a big stake I'm playing after, girl, and I am not going to lose it through the whims of a woman. If you won't go pleasantly, then you'll go by force. Kneep it, you thousand! Do you want me to choke you?"

She struggled to break loose, twisting and turning, but the effort was useless. Suddenly he whistled sharply. There was the sound of feet scrambling down the path, and the frightened woman perceived the dim outlines of several approaching men. She gave one scream, and Hawley released his grip on her arm, allowing her to escape.

It came to Keith in a flash—it was Walte. Perhaps Christie knew. Perhaps the General knew. Certainly something of importance was crystallizing in the actress' room which might help to explain all else. He rushed up the stairs, barely waiting to rap once at the closed door before he pressed it open. The slight within held him silent, waiting opportunity to burst out his power. Here, also, was tragedy, intense, compelling, which for the instant seemed to even overshadow the fate of the girl he loved. There were three men present, and the woman. She stood clutching the back of a chair, white-faced and open-eyed, with Fairbairn slightly behind her, one hand grasping her arm, the other clutching his jaw not pugnaclously. Facing these two was Walte, and a heavily built man wearing a brown beard, closely trimmed.

"You'd better acknowledge it," Walte snapped out, with a quick glance at the newcomer. "It will make it all the easier for you. I tell you this is the sheriff, and we've got you both dead to rights."

"But," she urged, "why should I be arrested? I have done nothing."

"You're an adventuress—a damn adventuress—Hawley's mistress, probably—"

"Now, see here, Walte," and Fairbairn swung himself forward, "you drop that. Miss Macleire is my friend, and if you say another word I'll smash you, sheriff or no sheriff."

Walte glared at him.

"You old fool," he snorted, "what have you got to do with this?"

"I've got this to do with this," the woman is to be treated with respect or I'll blow your damned, obstinate head off."

The sheriff laid his hand on Walte's shoulder.

"Come," he said, firmly, "this is no way to get at it. We want to know certain facts, and then we can proceed lawfully. Let me question the woman."

The two older men still faced one another belligerently, but Keith saw Christie draw the doctor back from between her and the sheriff.

Island's Minerals.

Besides gold and copper, silver has also been discovered in Iceland by a French engineer. The mines are situated in the mountain of Ingolfssfall, in the environs of Ouluf, South Iceland. The mountain belongs to some farmers, and an engineer, on behalf of a French company, had purchased the right of digging. English companies have now rented certain Icelandic districts where gold mines were discovered.

Foley's Kidney Remedy Acted Quickly.

M. N. George, Ironville, Ala., was bothered with kidney trouble for many years. "I doctored, and tried kidney medicines without material benefit. In fact, kept getting worse. I was persuaded to try Foley Kidney Remedy, and before taking it three days I could feel its beneficial effects. The pain left my back, my kidney action cleared up, and I am so much better I do not hesitate to recommend Foley Kidney Remedy to all sufferers." Badger Drug Co.

than it seemed to him possible? There was barely a chance that this could be true, and yet Keith grasped at it desperately, cursing himself for having wasted time. Five minutes later, breathless, almost speechless with anxiety, he startled the clerk.

"Has Miss Walte come in? Miss Hope Walte?"

"Blamed if I know," retorted the other, indifferently. "Can't the life of me tell those two females apart. One of them passed through 'bout ten minutes ago; Doc Fairbairn was with her. Another party just went up stairs hunting Miss Macleire, and as they haven't come down, I reckon it must have been her—anything wrong?"

"I'm not sure yet," shortly. "Who was this other person?"

"Old fellow with white hair and whiskers—swore like a pirate—had

Warning to Railroad Men.

E. B. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Mo., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley Kidney Pills." Badger Drug Co.

Traveling Man's Tale.

"I had a strange experience with an intoxicated man in a telegraph office down state the other day," says a traveling man. "Was in a hurry to send a message myself, but this fellow was leaning against the receiver's window as if he was camped there for the night. He muttered a lot of fool stuff to the man behind the screen, but I couldn't hear what it was. Finally I got impatient and shoved my message over his shoulder. At the same time I saw the scrawl this scound was endeavoring to get on the wire. It was addressed to somebody in New Orleans."

"He fumbled in his pocket, produced 62 cents in small change, and started away. 'Hold on,' the clerk said; 'this isn't enough. It will cost you $1.40 to send this to New Orleans.'"

"A right, o' man," waved the inebriate ulcily. "That's all I got with me right now. Just send it as far as you can f'r th' money!"

"The Best in the World"

As the bride led her friends into her cool, spotless kitchen, they broke into a chorus of approval.

"Well, I am proud of it," she said, "and proudest of all of my stove. It's a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove; and I think they are the best in the world. They toast, roast, broil and bake equally well—really to perfection—and the kitchen stays much cooler and cleaner than with any other range. This stove cuts my kitchen work almost in half."

There is no wood or coal to carry for a New Perfection; no ashes to clean up. It is ready for use as soon as lit; out at a touch of the fingers—economical as well as quick and convenient.

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with five burners, and gas control. The 2 and 3 burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, lower racks, etc. (Dress every where) or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the
